

NAOMI WILLIAMS

[WIRADJURI]

POETRY PRIZE

The Naomi Williams Wiradjuri Poetry Prize is named in honour of Nay, who was a strong, proud Wiradjuri woman from the Brungle/Tumut area of NSW.

Nay loved to write poetry about the Tumut river, her family and all the elements of love that she treasured.

This poetry prize aims to support other Wiradjuri writers and encourage more poetry about life on Wiradjuri country.

THEME

Healing Country,
Healing Mob

CATEGORIES

Adult:

Wiradjuri writers over 25 years

Youth:

Wiradjuri writers under 25 years

Kids:

Wiradjuri writers 12 years and under

Open:

All those living, working and learning on Wiradjuri country

WINNERS

Winners will be announced at the Gundagai NAIDOC
Ball on 25 June 2021.

Winners in Adult, Youth, and Open categories will receive $250.

Winners in the Kids category will receive $100.

Highly commended entries will receive a $50 book voucher.

For more information, please email us at poetry@justice.org.au or call us at the National Justice Project office on (02) 9514 4440.

PROUD SPONSORS

The Kilby/Penrith Family, Aunty Caroline Hughes, National Justice Project, Heiss Family, Williams Family.

NEXT STEPS

Please include the following information in your submission:

- Title of poem
- Category
- Name
- Date of birth

For the kids category, please also provide a name, contact number and permission from your parent or guardian.

Email your poem to poetry@justice.org.au
by 31 May 2021.